notice

Here's the first chapter of Nanaji Nagamu-sensei's anticipated new series, Aruitou! The only bittersweet aspect of releasing this is that Nanaji-sensei suffered a stroke recently. (Well, it's also bittersweet that we didn't realize how bad the raws were before the images started to kill our eyesight XD The things we sacrifice for you guys.) So while the first chapter of Aruitou was published just fine, the second chapter will only have a few pages in the next Margaret, and who knows about the subsequent chapters. The same happened to Hidaka Banri-sensei recently, where she was throwing up blood! It's amazing how much effort mangakas pour into their work.

So while we would love to continue translating this series, unfortunately, this means that we might not be continuing unless we can get our hands on the second chapter. If you have anything to say, you can find us at www.ourtranscendence.com - And don't forget to wish sensei a speedy recovery at marga2011charity.blog.fc2.com!
